

Fenwick
Nov. 26

Dear Frank
and Elsie, --

 This
is an anxious time
for both of you, and my thoughts are very often at your lovely home in New Dundee.
Walter McRaye had already written a vivacious account of

2

your visit to him,
when you brought
Carl and Madonna
along. It was lovely
of you to do that;
but though he has suffered since, I know Carl had a very happy day.

Walter is at his best in social life
with congenial friends around him he simply shines, & his cousin is a Pearl indeed.

We looked for your
coming this summer.
Was there no holiday for you at all? And isn't there some baleful connection between no holiday & a fit
of sickness?

Hoping there is a steady improvement in health & happiness; & with a kiss to dear Ellen & love to you all.

Ever sincerely
Ethelwyn Wetherald
